BECOME A CONSULTANT AT MADDOX PLANNING.

COMPANY

At Maddox Planning, we believe great planning comes from empowered professionals, people who combine insight, independence, and passion. As a consultant with us, you'll join a respected network of planning experts who enjoy flexibility, meaningful work, and the backing of one of the UK's most trusted planning consultancies.

YOUR EXPERTISE.
YOUR INDEPENDENCE.

WHY PARTNER WITH US

WORK WITH FREEDOM AND FLEXIBILITY

We understand that the best work happens when you have the freedom to manage your own time and projects. Our consultancy model is designed around independent working, allowing you to take on assignments that match your expertise and availability. You focus on what you do best, delivering exceptional planning outcomes, while we handle the coordination and client engagement.

We're committed to ensuring that our consultants are rewarded fairly and efficiently for their work. Maddox Planning values transparency and professionalism in all financial arrangements, ensuring you're supported and compensated promptly for your contribution to our projects.

FAIR AND EFFICIENT

SUPPORTED, NOT MANAGED

At Maddox Planning, you're an independent professional, not an employee. We provide administrative and project support to make your work smoother, without unnecessary oversight. Our structure allows you to stay focused on your clients and your craft, with a reliable team managing the operational details behind the scenes.
